

Women's Giving Circle

Frequently Asked Questions

What is a giving circle?

A giving circle is a group of individuals who agree to pool charitable dollars and collectively give to one or more charities or causes. While deciding where to give their pooled donations, members learn about their community's needs and the organizations addressing those needs.

What is the Habitat for Humanity DC-NOVA Women's Giving Circle and how does it work?

Habitat's Women's Giving Circle brings together individual women who support the mission of Habitat DC-Nova to sponsor specific projects through their collective giving. Near the end of a two-year round of pooled giving, Habitat will present three project options for the next pooled donation, and the members decide which project to fund by majority vote.

How do members join?

Anyone who supports the mission of Habitat can join the Women's Giving Circle by making a 2-year commitment to donate $1,000 per year ($2,000 total). The gifts are 100% tax deductible to the fullest extent of the law. To make the Women's Giving Circle accessible to members, various payment options are available. What are the benefits to members of the Giving Circle?

Members will be able to make new friendships with like-minded women and grow personal and business connections during social events and while volunteering on Habitat sites. Socials and networking events will be largely member-led through the Member Activities Committee and may include activities such as hosted dinners and cocktail hours, arts and culture events, and learning series to dive deeper into Habitat's work and meet the families we serve. Members will also have the opportunity to volunteer on Habitat construction sites and in our ReStores. To ensure that every dollar of the Women's Giving Circle goes into the homes Habitat builds, some member events may charge registration fees.

I know someone who might be interested in joining. How can I get them involved before they join?

Members are encouraged and welcome to bring a friend to social and volunteer events. For any events that aren't specifically tagged as 'bring a friend', please contact the Women's Giving Circle Coordinator directly to confirm additional attendees.

I have a question, who do I contact?

Diane Jones Meier, Women's Giving Circle Coordinator, can be reached at wgc@habitatdcnova.org.
Liz Salter, VP of Resource Development at liz.salter@habitatdcnova.org or 703-944-0489.

Women's Giving Circle

Your membership in action

So you've joined the Women's Giving Circle... what's next?

1

Submit your registration and pledge form to Habitat

You'll be added to our member directory and our membership mailing list to receive newsletters, event invitations, project updates and more. The registration form (enclosed) is also where you can tell us why you've joined and where your particular interests are.

2

Join an upcoming event to meet your fellow members

We aim to offer 3-4 social events per year in addition to volunteer days. You can view the calendar and register for member events and volunteer opportunities at www.habitatdcnova.org/events. Have an idea for an event? Consider joining the Member Activities Committee.

3

Learn about the homes the WGC Sponsors

The inaugural donation pool sponsored a rehab build in Capitol Hill, DC. Habitat renovated a donated row house into 2 flat-style units. You can check out the project details at https://www.habitatdcnova.org/what-we-do/habitatdcnova-org-constitution_ave/. WGC members voted to support the ten townhomes at Fairfax Presbyterian Church for 2027 and 2028.
